and six years' penal servitude respectively, and two to be exiled to Siberia. Three have been sentenced to short terms of imprisonment.

St. Petersburg, June 7.—The Executive Committee of the Nihilists have informed the Czar that his doom is certain.

New York, June 7.—The World's London special says: The Czar is reported as being completely broken down. Correspondents who have visited Gatchina recently say it is pitiable to see what a wreck this man of herculean frame has become since his

It was thought at first that he would defy the Nihilists, and when he appeared once or twice at reviews and public ceremonies, his brave and manly bearing elicited hearty applause from the people; but since he issued his proclamation of autonomy and called in Ignatieff, Alexander III. has almost withdrawn from public view. It is not grief for his father, but sheer terror. The shock of the assassination completely prostrated the Czarina, and her nervousness has affected the Czar. His place at Gatchina is a perfect arsenal. Cordons of trusty Cossacks surround the palace district.

Cossacks surround the whole district and the palace itself is guarded night and day by the police and picked officers of the line. The Czar lives in a state of stage. All visitors, except the high officers of State, are searched, and at night there is a password and countersign, not only for the precincts of the palace, but for all the roads approaching it.

Like all the Romanoffs, Alexander III is superstitious. Just before the assassination of the late Czar, the household was upset by the discovery of a dead pigeon in the main court-yard of the winter Palace, which had been built by Peter the Great.

man being killed by an eagle. Gatchina is now terrified by an omen of more sinister import. During a storm of thunder and lightning, June 4th, the granite statue of the Emperor Paul was overthrown and the sentry guarding it was killed.

When falls Paul's column, dies the Tsar,
And Russians upon Russia war.
The deed was done in eighteen one (1801).
And when twice forty years are run,
Will Russia for thy crowned one.

The Czar believes as firmly as the most ignorant peasant that the prophecy was not fulfilled by the murder of Alexander II., but that 1881 will witness a civil war and the overthrow of the dynasty.

St. Petersburg, June 7.—The police recently discovered a plot to kill the Czar and captured all the conspirators. A carpenter overheard them planning the death of the Czar, and informed the police, who secreted a Lieutenant-Colonel and a large force behind some furniture. A large body of police was also posted outside. The Nihilists held a conference, and, after conversing for six hours, resolved upon the death of the Czar. The Lieutenant-Colonel sprang out from his concealment, and the whole force rushed into the room, capturing the entire band.

A Berlin despatch says: A letter from Russia states that about thirty army officers, including the Colonel of the Imperial Guard, have been arrested in the past month. Among the naval officers arrested:

is a relative of Procureur-General Mouraviev, who conducted the prosecution of Rousakoff and other Nihilists executed for complicity in the murder of the Czar. The policy of procrustination reigns supreme at St. Petersburg.

MISCELLANEOUS.

New York, June 2nd, 1881.

New York, June 6.—A London special says: Gladstone's physicians have made concerted representation to him that he must get into the Upper House if he expects to remain in public life. He suffers constantly from diarrhoea, the result of overwork, and nothing but relative rest will save him. He would have broken down long ago but for his immense recuperative force, which shows itself in the ease with which he sleeps after the exhausting sittings of Parliament. He can go home and sleep eight hours on a stretch without once waking, but no man can draw forever even on such a constitution as his with impunity.

London, June 8.—The failure is announced of Arthur Norris & Co. iron and metal merchants. Liabilities, £73,000.

London, June 8.—The British Board of Trade returns for the month of May show an increase of £2,368,828 in imports, compared with the same month last year, and an increase of £189,772 in exports.

London, June 8.—The Theatre Royal at Belfast, Ireland, was burned this morning.

Geneva, June 8.—It is intended, if possible, to run trains on the railway through the St. Gotthard Tunnel by electricity, which is to be produced by the machinery

INTIMATIONS.

THE CHINA REVIEW.

THE widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication similar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details.
The CHINA REVIEW, or Notes and Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octavo pages, occasionally illustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the papers publishing demand and the circulation justify, such extra matter.
The subscription is fixed at $6.50 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance.
The publication includes papers original and selected from the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelago and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number. Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Portuguese, are admissible. Endeavours are made to present a resume of the most recent number of the contents of the most recent number of the Chinese matters. Great attention is also paid to the Review department.
Notes and Replies are classified together as "Notes" (head references being given, when furnished, to previous Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which though asking for information, furnish new or unpublished details concerning the matter in hand. It is desirable to make the Queries proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.
The China Review for July and August, 1875, is at hand. It says that forty-two essays were sent in to compete for the best paper on the advantages of Christianity for the development of a State. All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and entertaining Review. It is a sixty and a monthly, repository of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is alone worth the price of the Review. Address China Review, Hongkong—Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.).
The following notice of the China Review, which is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached us from Hongkong, where it has been set on foot as some respects a continuation of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, and two ago has been much regretted in Europe as well as in China. The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publication as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese proficiency is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors. In a paper on Mr. Legge's Shi King, by the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of honour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological problems and arguments involved in connection with this important work. Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowring, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, it carried out with punctiliousness and detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intended to appear every two months, and will form a substantial octavo magazine.

THE CHINA REVIEW.
This paper is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at $6.50 per annum, delivered in Hongkong or Seven Dollars Fifty Cents including postage to Coast ports.
It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing.
The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan—from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese,—consider themselves justified in guaranteeing an ultimate circulation of between 3,000 and 4,000 copies. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and those who are generally well informed as to their interest to avail themselves of them.
The field open to a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in tone—in almost limitless. On the one hand, the Chinese reader is interested and interested while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners. Like English journals it contains Editorials, Local, Shipping, and Commercial News and Advertisements.
Subscriptions orders for either of the above may be sent to
